

The background of the entire poster is a photograph of the interior of St. Marien Stralsund church. The image shows a long, high nave with a vaulted ceiling, supported by tall, light-colored stone columns. The floor is covered with dark wooden pews. In the distance, the altar area is visible, featuring a large, ornate chandelier and a tall, dark structure, possibly a pulpit or part of the altar. The lighting is warm and comes from windows on the right side, creating a soft glow.
